Convicted of Murder Under an Atleged Criminal Conspiracy-Belonged to . Band Known as "Knights of the Archers."

Sylvania, Ga., June 14.--Arnold Augustus, Andrew Davis, Richard Sanders, William Hudson and Sam Baldwin, all negroes, were executed in the yard of the county jail of Screven county Friday afternoon.

The drop fell at 12:20. The necks of four were broken by the fall. The fifth died of strangulation. The negroes bore up well. They sang at the jall and afterwards marched between squads of soldiers to the seaffold. Here they made a short talk and recelved spiritual consolation. They then drank lemonade furnished by the sheriff and thanked him for his kindness to them. None of the negroes sald he was innocent of the crlme for which they met death.

These five negroes were convicted of a murder committed under an alleged erlminal conspiracy by an organized band of blacks known as "Knights of the Archer." The motto of the organization, it is said, was "Death to the Whites."

The murder for which the men dled was but the culinination of a long series of erlmes. It is eommon report that the charter of this oath-bound organization was signed in blood, and bled his band only at night, when he swore them with awesome rltes to secreey and to deeds of death and

On a night in October, 1899, Milton Mears, a constable of Sereven county, Fillmore Herrington and Captaln Jesse Wade, started out from Sylvania to serve a warrant for the arrest of Joe Sanders, a young negro wanted for some trival offense. No sooner had they reached his house than a fusillade began. From the eracks between the logs of the eabin and from a thicket of dwarf trees close by deputy who led her. came the flash of rlfles and shotguns and the three men fell desperately wounded. Captain Wade managed to crawl to his buggy and make his way to Sylvania, where he told of the shooting. Herrington and Mears were literally shot to pieces. The murderers eseaped, but one after another of the five were arrested and placed in fall here. These men are the men who met death Friday.

The others, Including McKinney, and the real leaders of the Knights of the Archer, successfully effected their escape and have never been eaptured.

Kennedy Triai. Kansas City, June 14.-The day's session in the Kennedy murder trial was opened by Prosecutor Hadley reading the Instructions to the jury. Frank G. Johnson, former elty police judge, then opened the argument for the state. He said the only question to be determined in considering the woman's guilt or Innocence was whether she was sane or insane, whether she knew the difference between right and wrong. She had committed the murder for revenge and after having deliberated on it. After Kennedy had been forced by her father and brother to marry her she had been asked why she married him and had said, "I want my revenge." This the leader, Andrew McKinney, assem- because he intended soon to wed another girl. And yet, he sald, her downfall could be laid to Case Patten, with whom, as was well known, she had kept company all last summer and as late as October, 1960. Attorney Johnson concluded: "I will say, gentlemen of the jury, there is evidence to find this defendant guilty of murder in the first degree." These last words, given in thundering tones, had no effect on Mrs. Kennedy, and a moment later when court took a recess until 1 o'clock she went to her cell laughing and ehatting with the

THE Dallas News points out that the Supreme Court of the United States has reversed itself in these cases:

1. It has decided (Darmouth College case) that a State charter is a contract which the State may not break, and later that a State may break it.

2. It has decided that Congress has exclusive authority to regulate commerce on all navigable waters, and later that it has not. Later yet, it has reversed that reversal and reaffirmed its first decision.

3. It has decided that stock certificates may not be issued under a State law, and later that they may.
4. It has decided that any State may prohibit the importation of alcoholic liquors, and later that no State may do

5. It has decided that Congress has no power to make paper money legal tender for debts incurred before its issue, and later that it has unlimited power to make paper legal tender in peace or war. 6. It has twice decided that an income tax is constitutional, and once—the last time-that it is not.

AFTER THE TAX DODGERS.

Cincago, June 13,—Action by the grand jury against tax-dodgers and those who have perjured themselves in the schedules of personal property filed is now being planned by the County Board

So willful has been the dishonesty displayed in hundreds of schedules that the members of the board have agreed that some steps must be taken at once to punish the perjurers. This applies especially to some of the richest and so-called prominent citizens of Chicago, who schedule only a small amount of personal property from their Chicago home, pleading that their res cence was in some lake resort, where they spent their summers. In this way the millionaires of Chicago have helped to decrease the personalty valuations, while the city and county governments are on the verge of bankruptcy owing to a lack of revenue caused by this very decrease in valuations.

There are some people who would allow the tax dodgers and perjurers to pursue the even tenor of their way. In the opinion of this class, it's a great outrage to molest the tax-shirkers. Chicago authorities are doing just what should be done elsewhere.

Married, at the Bee Hive. on February 25th, at 11:30 o'clock, MR. BIG BUSIness to MISS LITTLE PROFIT.

THE MARRIAGE CONTRACT:

We the undersigned, in making our marriage vow, have decided that while we expect to derive much pleasure from our union we have not united for the sole purpose of selfishness, but to do something in this world to uplift some of the burdens that people of these days are ladened. And we feel that we can do more good by uniting our efforts than by doing so alone. The people must be clothed, and we are going to do it cheaper than anyone else by doing a big business with little profits.

We do not unite to injure in any way Mr. High Price Merchant, and we will say that the people that have more money than they know what to do with can still buy the same goods that we sell at 30 per cent. more in price at Mr. High Price Merchant Store.

Let everybody unite in making this business big and we will do our share to make your merchandise cheap, and with this done we can say: "Marriage is not a

BRILLIANT RECEPTION

In Honor of Miss Pugh, the Lovely Sponsor for Maysville Commandery.

The Templar Asylum Presented an Inspiring Scene Last Evening-An Event In Social Circles.

An event forming a conspicuous chapter in the history of Maysville's social world and a most pleasant memory to those who were fortunate enough to be participants, was the reception and dance given last night by Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., in honor of Miss Beulah Louise Pugh, the lovely sponsor for the commandery at the Triennial Conclave of the commanderies of the United States, to be held in Louisville in August next.

The reception was given in the elegant asylum of the order in Masonic Temple, the rooms of the other Masonic bodies being also thrown open. The whole space was most extensively and tastefully decorated with rare plants and exquisite flawers. Thronged with beautiful women, elegantly gowned, and with handsome men paying devoted homage at beauty's shrine, rarely has the asylum ever presented a more inspiring scene.

Shortly after nine o'clock the guests were formed in column to be presented, in turn, to the guest of honor, who stood at the east end of the main room of the suite, surrounded by those assisting her and immediately in front of a bank of ferns and palms, behind which was sta- $1 up to $3.50. t'oned the Maysville Orchestra, almost completely hidden from view.

The following were the ladies in the receiving party and the costumes worn: Miss Pugh; exquisitely gowned in a toilet of sea-foam green satin, trimmed in applique, natural flowers.

Mrs. Clarence Mathews; in a handsome costume of French lawn, trimmed in Honiton lace. Mrs Gordon Smoot; a charming gown

One day Andrew Carnegle at Pittshurg cailed up one of his New York iawyers by long distance telephone. The steelmaker wanted to ask a question, but could not make himself understood clearly over the telephone, so he asked the lawyer to come to Pittsburg.

The lawyer said he had an important appointment in New York next day and could not get away.

"Come over now, then," Mr. Carnegie

"Can't get train," answered the law-

"Hire a special," was the answer which came back from Pittsburg. So the lawyer engaged a special train, went to Pittsburg and saw Mr. Carnegle.

The steelmaker asked the lawyer's advice as to whether the question troubling hlm called for "yes" or "no." The lawyer answered, "No."

"Thank you," said Mr. Carnegie. "Good night."

The lawyer had said less than 20 words, for which he received $5,000, said "Good night, Mr. Carnegie," and took a special train back to New York in time to keep his appointment next day.-New York Herald.

The Old Time Doctor.

"When I was a young fellow," said the man who notices things, "the family physician attended to all the ills of the famlly, and the specialists of the profession were wholly unknown. The country doctor was a surgeon as well as a physician. He was aimost always clever and usually had remedies of his own invention for common ailments. A large number of the successful patent medicines now before the public are prescriptions of the old time country physician. I could name a dozen such.

"Old Dr. Hill, who was the leader in the town I grew up in, was called into the country by an urgent message one night. He wasn't advised what the patient was suffering from and upon arrival found it was an ulcerated tooth that was subjecting its owner to almost unbearable pain. Not a surgical instrument did the doctor have with him, and his office was seven miles away. Did he send back for his lnstruments? Not much! He extracted that tooth with an ordinary hammer and nail to the complete satisfaction of his patient and himself. I'il wager he made a mighty good job of it too."-New York Tribune.

She Couldn't Stand It.

"No," said the beautiful actress; "I cannot be your wife. I love you dearly, Mr. Frost, and If you had any other name I would be giad to go through life sharing your joys and sorrows."

"But," he protested, "my name should not stand in the way. What Is It Shakespeare says? 'A rose by any other name would sincll as sweet.' What is the matter with my name? Does history record a single dark or unworthy deed committed by a Frost? No. Ah, darling, say you will make me the happiest man on earth!" "No, no! I cannot! I cannot!" she moaned. "Why, if I were to marry you every newspaper paragrapher in the country would have something to say next morning about 'the Frost Miss Darlington received at yesterday's per-

Curious Picture Frames,

In many churches of Provence and Italy, especially those near the sea, ex voto paintings placed on the walls in accordance with vows made by piigrims in moments of danger are often remarkable for their frames. Among the curiosities may be enumerated laths formed of spilnters from ships that have been wrecked: also frames made of pieces of heavy cables, occasionally painted bright hues, but sometimes left in their primitive gray color and splashed with tar. Nalled to the laths surrounding a painting representing sallors fighting with fierce savages may be seen African or Polynesian spears and darts or swords made of hard wood, evidently mementos of terrific struggles. Sallors or landsmen who have made vows during times of peril at sea and who have no trophles to display will surround their paintings with broad bands of wood heavily incrusted with shells and seaweed, not infrequently of rare and extremely beautiful kinds, - London Peopie's Friend.
